MTA (Tyler, Jeff)

Announcements

- 2) The house meeting was last Monday at 10. As if that wasn't exciting enough, trivia winners were announced then as well.
- 3) The Pineapple themed Happy Hour was last Friday. What fruity flavor will they come up with next?
- 4) Go on the camping trip this past weekend, even though there were no llamas. You can relive last years camping trip here:

- 6) AOTW: 411's Tiffany and Natalie for releasing their Kung Fu on the burglar who tried to steal Gita's stuff..
- 7) Steve is so sketchy. It is unbelievable at this point.

Old Business

- 1) Unhooded Sweatshirts: there is no update. I wonder if this issue will ever truly be resolved.
- 2) In other news, Steve is clinically depressed.
- 3) FREP elections: Our new Frep will most likely be Liz, since she's the only one who has turned in a petition. Way to be involved, Freshmen.
- 4) Steve's teamwork exercise for this meeting is the trust fall. There is no trust between Steve and Lara. She thinks he's a pedophile. He thinks they hooked up this weekend and things are now awkward. It is hard to say who is right.

- 4) On a related note, Tyler has a secret. If you wanna know it, e-mail Jeff.
- 5) AOTW: Camping Trip--Timo and Orlando, sitting in a tree, K-I-S-S-I-N-G. This explains the recent frustration Orlando has been releasing on Baker Forum.

EXECCON 10.24.2004

This week's minutes are brought to you by Dinko. Because it was he, not the dingo, that did in fact eat your baby.

MTA (Tyler, Christi)

Announcements:

1. Play IM Sports in Tyler's lounge. No really, they actually do that. Also, play ice hockey, because Ducks fly together!
2. Again, someone email Steve the Social calendar so he can figure out how many days till Holiday Party.
3. Steve hopes you had fun at Oktoberfest.
4. Want to fulfill your childhood dream of being an assassin? Well, today is your lucky day we might be bringing the game to Baker!
5. AOTW: 317 reams of paper and those crazy cats who got them for Baker, the Yankees for trying their darndest, and the Red Sox for being generally awesome.

Old Business:

1. Unhooded sweat shirts are getting hoods! They'll probably be navy or black.
2. Holiday party is coming! Get a date, or Steve will find you one from his brothel. Lara is his number one girl. Riva is a close second, and does like to take her clothes off.

New Business:

1. Housemaster meeting: the committee will meet the candidates next week. Prospective housemasters will come to Baker November 13th, 14th, 20th, 21th for weekend brunches to meet the residents.
2. Lara still tries to organize everything and anything Berg. This obsession is getting out of hand, and Steve has taken it upon himself to concentrate her energy in his brothel.
3. At this point in the meeting, there was a rather long tangent about going off on tangents. Sometimes I hate irony.

Appropriations:

1. $75 IM Fees to Hockey Fee (Tyler, Dinko)
2. $32.33 from TV Room to Mystery DVDs (Scott, Dinko)
3. $984 from Oktoberfest to Oktoberfest (Steve, Dinko)

These execcon minutes rock. Because Tony wrote them.

Motion to approve last week's minutes: Tyler/Jeff

Announcements:

- 1) I flew in from California to see the Red Sox win the World Series. Which they did. And so the curse of A-Rod begins.
- 2) Play IM sports. Especially soccer. People haven't been showing up, so Coach Etan is about to lay the smack down.
- 3) Chris said something nice about Curt Schilling. Thanks, Chris!
- 4) The 6W TV is missing a coax cable. If anyone took it, please put it back.
- 5) Rockin' Halloween party, Social. Similarly, I encourage anyone even remotely interested in throwing any themed- or unthemed-party to talk to Steve (519) or Alice (516), because they will help you throw one. Seriously, these people can help you rock it in your own room.
- 6) Julius: "Tony, you're gonna be a troublemaker like Tim Sutherland."
- 7) Thanks to everyone who came out to the Anderson's Retreat for Cancer. You rock for supporting a good cause.
- 8) 34 days until Holiday Party. For anyone who isn't familiar with the Baker Holiday Party, it is one of two formals Baker holds each year. It's a great time, the Social Chairs always do a awesome job of making the formal rock, and it usually happens during a blizzard. You should get a date in advance, get some dinner reservations for the evening, and plan on showing up at about 10:00. Seriously, you won't regret it.
- 9) Athlete of the Week:
Tony Weinbeck, for being the rockin-est ex-president of all time.
Coming in a close second:
The Red Sox, for winning the WORLD SERIES!!!
Coming in a far third (Halloween costumes):
Jeff Falkenbach = The Mad Hatter
James Albrecht = Richard Simmons
Tony Weinbeck = Bronson Arroyo
Jimmy Noonan = nothing worth noting

Old Business:

- 1) We are currently interviewing new Housemaster candidates. There will be more info on this at the House Meeting happening tonight, Monday, at 10pm.
- 2) Frep Liz Jordan gave an update on the Piano Drop. For some reason, my execcon decided last fall that the Piano Drop should fall in the hands of the Frep. But since then, we've had exactly ZERO piano drops, so I'd encourage anyone who would like to see us throw a piano from the roof of Baker onto Mem Drive to email Liz <ljordan> to let her know you'd like to help. Cause we can seriously use all the help we can with this.

New Business:

- 1) We have quite possibly the most amazing view I have ever seen from our roof. But because some very idiotic people think it's fun to be destructive on it, we may lose all roof access. So stop being dumb, take care of our roof, and we may be able to keep it.
Seriously, go up to the roof right now and appreciate the view.
- 2) There will be a House Meeting tonight at 10pm. I was going to lie blatantly about the agenda, but I see Martijn has already sent out an email with the real agenda, and besides, he told me not to lie in the minutes. So come to the House Meeting tonight to see history in the making.

Moderately well-known Baker fact: Baker once declared war on Next House. Among other things, Baker stole the front door.

Very little-known Baker fact: the story of how Baker actually managed to steal a freakin' Front Door.

-Next House had been complaining about a drafty front door for some time and had sent a number of requests to Maintenance to fix it. So Baker sent over a large, older looking upperclassman dressed in overalls and a grubby shirt posing as a maintenance worker. The Bakerite came, inspected the door and the frame, and went to the front desk and asked to use the phone. He called his own room and proceeded to have an argument with his answering machine about why the door is fine and why he shouldn't have to do anything to it, but the conversation ended in him saying angrily "Fine, I'll just take off the whole damn door," and slammed down the phone. So he had the desk worker sign a release statement, went and took off the door, and carried it to Baker.

Hence is the story of how Baker stole the Next House front door.

Special note from Ex-President Tony: Baker House has always been a very special place, most notably for its exceedingly open and friendly atmosphere. I have seen a marked change in this atmosphere since my freshman year here (2000). I'm not gonna go on a soliloquy here or anything, but two very simple things people can do to promote this atmosphere are simply to keep your door open while you are in your room (unless you really need privacy or are asleep), and to try to make an appearance at every Baker event, even if very brief. These two simple things will go a long ways to make Baker a better place. Thanks!

HOUSE MEETING 11.1.2004

MTA (Jeff, Tyler)

Announcements

1. Play IM Sports. We have new hockey skates, not hockey weights, as Tony incorrectly said earlier. Soccer had a disappointing loss to Bexely this weekend, but at least our team put up a good fight. I mean, it s not like they ditched the game to go eat waffles at LaVerdes or anything...
2. 33 days till Holiday Party. Get a date or Steve will get one for you sketchily.
3. There is a darts ladder on 6th floor. Add yourself to it if you love darts. Or if you don t. Whatever. You might have to fight Tom Casserly to play though. He s owning that board.

Old Business

1. Liz Jordan is the new Frep. She emailed somebody. Good job, Liz.

New Business

1. Housemaster Update: Who will be the next Baker Housemaster? In two to three weeks, the final round of candidates will come to Baker. Look for an email about that soon from the Housemasters committee.
2. Riva s working on those sweatshirts, and has samples for people to look at. If sweatshirts are important to you or someone you love, light a fire under Riva s butt in 620.

(meeting started by Martijn)

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

(mostly a summary of above announcements)

Martijn's Final Words as President:

Martijn, the former Baker House President, made an excellent speech summarizing the great place Baker was, is, and hopefully will continue to be. Here are a few suggestions from Martijn:

- 1.) Open Door Policy:
If you can, please keep your doors open when you are in your room. It helps make Baker a more friendly, social place.
- 2.) Room Parties:
Take advantage of times when there aren't any social events and hold room parties. Martijn said he will attend them!

3.) Baker Family:

Baker House should be like a family - in the same way Everett Moore Baker would have wanted.

Thanks to Martijn and the former ExecCon members!

:: President (Riva)

- Big item is the President's trip!

- Don't forget the End of Term Study breaks and BBQ that we will be having....towards the end of the term.

Judcomm Elections

(FYI: Please vote in the lobby for the four candidates who are running for Judcomm.)

The four candidates are Christi, Brian, Nathalie, and Harry.

+ Christi Winiarz

- She is very involved with Baker activities, is Course 2, and was our VPRO last year.
- As a Judcomm member, she promises to keep issues confidential and is good at lying. She also bravely stood up to Julius who was being mean!
- Q: How do you feel about working with Harry Huxford?
A: Once he learns about the rules, he may actually follow them.
- Q: Do you like Pepsi or Sprite?
A: Yes - "I like Pepsi or Sprite."
- She put up a very intimidating bear growl when requested to imitate a bear.

+ Brian Malley

- Brian Malley for drinking a gallon of milk and winning (almost) the MILK CHALLENGE.
- Is very confident he will win, and more shocking, is a freshman who hasn't joined a fraternity/sorority...yet!
- Q: How do you feel about working with Harry Huxford?
A: Rolls eyes and evades answering the question.
- If you throw stuff over the roof, after a few warnings, Brian says he will throw you over the roof. Please, try to avoid falling Bakerites Brian throws off the roof when walking over to Next Dining.

+ Nathalie Pinkerton

- She ran for Social...and lost to the political juggernaut known as Giselle / Katie.
- Confesses to catching thieves, beating them up, and stealing their wallets.
- Q: How do you feel about working with Harry Huxford?
A: It's.....um....."cool."
- Q: Do you find Harry Huxford sexy?
A: (no answer....)
- She put up a very intimidating bear growl when requested to imitate a bear.

+ Mr. Harry Hernández Huxford

- Announced that he is running for Judcomm while unrolling a roll of toilet paper some stranger gave him.
- Provides the expanded form of STFU as a solution to every problem individuals would bring to him, and he promises to help with Happy

Hour by renaming it to Harry's Happy Hour.

- Q: Of the three candidates, who would you share a bed with?

A: All of them.

Remember to vote for the Judcomm members today (3/1/05) in the Baker Lobby.

Move to Adjourn: Giselle

Cheers!

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- 1.) Play IM Sports! Softball signups are due Tuesday in the Baker Lobby. Still not convinced? We have new bats!
- 2.) Be sure to signup for the President's Trip! The trip is this Saturday, and you have to pay Riva $5 to go. Also, make sure you have a legal, non-Photoshopped driver's license. If you need a Photoshopped driver's license, talk to Mike Robbins in 246. He accepts all forms of payment.

- 4.) Happy Hour this Friday!
- 5.) The date for the Spring Formal has been officially changed to April 29th.

 - Doria Holbrook for reaching the finals in Diving! (a real athlete!)

OLD BUSINESS:

- 1.) Fines may be issued for those who shamelessly abuse Bricks (the printer, not the red, hollow, mice-infested blocks in our rooms).

NEW BUSINESS:

- 1.) Will be having the second GRT-TNK this Thursday. Contact Riva if you want to be on the selection committee. More info above in the Announcements.
- 2.) Nobody showed up to present a case for or against the smoking regulations in Baker. Please contact Chandra Clarke if you are interested in voicing your opinion on this, and we may invite you to bring this issue up at the Next House meeting.
- 3.) MBPP Update #41: We may have 3 different styles of music to make everyone happy. The Quitters, who we hoped to play for us, have, much to everyone's surprise, quit.

- 9.) Jeff "Frep" Falkenbach will be designing scary posters to dissuade people from printing a lot of pages to Athena. - 10.) AOTW (Athlete[s] of the Week)
 - People who drank everytime the word "LaPlace" was mentioned aloud in 18.03. Today is LaPlace day after all.

OLD BUSINESS:

1.) Judcomm Elections. Yay for Judcomm!

2.) New Execcon. Yay for Execcon!

3.) There was much anticipation towards having great intellectual debates on smoking in Baker. It was promoted as THE defining moment of our lives.

Alas, sadly, there will be no debate. Both sides of the smoking issue never expressed interest in debating this in person. We had hoped that both sides of this issue would debate, but one side backed out, and the other side never backed in.

NEW BUSINESS:

1.) Katie's Cleanliness Announcement:

- Do not spit mucous into the water fountains. That is disgusting.
- If you shave in the public bathrooms, don't leave the shavings behind. That is disgusting.
- Flush the toilet. It's a simple pushing-on-lever action. You are not SAVING WATER by not flushing. For, water is actually conserved through repeated flushings.*

* Please share that info with random non-MIT strangers. Because you are from MIT, they have to believe you.

That is disgusting.

- If you clog the toilet, don't add more toilet paper. Adding extra toilet paper does not aid in the flushing of the clogged particles. That is disgusting.

- If you shed a lot, take out hairballs from the shower drains. That is disgusting.
- If you throw up, please clean it up. It is less gross to clean up vomit if you are having reduced sensory function due to being drunk. You probably won't like having to clean your vomit while not being drunk. That is disgusting.

IF WE FIND OUT WHO HAS BEEN VOMITING IN THE HALLWAY IN 3RD WEST, KATE SAID SHE WILL GET EVERYONE TO VOMIT IN YOUR ROOM! Massive manhunt is underway right now.

- 2.) If you have had issues with security guards being rude, please contact Riva!
- 3.) The walk for Project Breadwalk for Hunger is on Sunday, May 1st. Sign up at projectbread.org. Make sure to select the team for Baker on the sign-up form.

Motion to Adjourn: Tom "Happy the Solo Cup" Wilson.

Cheers!

EXECCON MEETING 4/10/05

Motion to Approve last week's minutes by Giselle!

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- 1.) Play IM Sports or risk being threatened by Diana to stand under a falling piano on the 21st.
- 2.) Nikhil turns 20 on the 17th as opposed to turning 19 as mentioned incorrectly in the previous minutes. Since this is Kirupa's second minutes-related mistake, a committee has been setup to find his replacement.

If you know of a REAL Indian (as opposed to Kirupa) who is willing to work long hours for no pay and no benefits, send their resume to happy-the-solo-cup@mit.edu.*

(* Existence of the address is not guaranteed.)

- 3.) Martijn needs at least 5 people to help out with moving heavy things to the roof for the piano drop. The people have to be STRONG AND ABLE-BODIED, so please forward this e-mail to your non-MIT friends who can help out.
- 4.) MBPP is THIS Saturday! You better be there, and if you can also help Giselle out with some of the work (see her e-mail), that would be really great!
- 5.) Marathon Day Party is appropriately on April 18th, so be sure to walk briskly to it.
- 6.) There are 18 days until the Spring Formal. Dress-up (nicely) and get a date. Bouncers will be present to deny access to people who don't follow the two requirements.

This will not be a dinner, but hors d'oeuvres will be served. We really would appreciate it if you could all invite your professors, and it would be even more great if you could all attend the reception.

Freshman, since this is your first semester on grades, it can't hurt to be heard by your Professors while talking loudly to your friends about how great your classes are!

 - 2.) $7.06 from Miscellaneous to Miscellaneous. (Nikhil/Yonas)

EXECCON MEETING 4/19/05

Motion to Approve last week's minutes by Chandra!

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- 1.) FABULOUS FACULTY RECEPTION TOMORROW! If you are cool (or want higher grades), you will go. If you invited a Professor, please make sure to be a good host and show up. If you didn't invite a Professor, please make sure to be a good host and show up also. Excellent hors d'oeuvres will be there also.

The reception will last 1.5 hours, and it starts at 5:00 PM near Baker Dining!

- 2.) FANTABULOUS PIANO DROP THURSDAY. At 5 PM there will be a BBQ by Baker Dining, so plan on not going to Next Dining on that day.

At 5:30, Prof. Feron from the Aero/Astro (Course 16) Department will be demonstrating a mini helicopter that will be videotaping the piano drop...from the air!

At 6:00 PM the piano will be dropped. Those of you who live in rooms that lie within X72 - X42 (where X is your floor number) SHOULD LEAVE your rooms during this time AND close the shades. Also, nobody is allowed on the roof during the piano drop.

Tomorrow, outside of Baker, the lucky piano that will be dropped will be featured. You can paint whatever you want to on the piano, and you can donate to a music education charity there also. A friendly, non-biting Baker Representative will be there to assist.

- 3.) Thanks to everyone who showed up at the AWESOME MBPP program Friday.

- 4.) Support Baker's Walk For Hunger Team! Sign-up at <http://www.projectbread.org>. Make sure to select Baker as your team when you sign-up.

- 5.) Play IM Sports or risk having your precious computer being thrown over the roof by Diana.

- 6.) There will be a BBQ this Sunday! Make sure you are there.

- 7.) DID YOU KNOW.....that there are only 10 more days left before the Spring Formal? Make sure to get a date. Oh, dress up....nicely!

- 8.) AOTW (Athlete[s] of the Week):
- Everyone from Baker who ran the Boston Marathon such as Jennifer Peng, Cecily Way, Tyler Callahan, and Adam Rosenthal.

OLD BUSINESS:

- 1.) Faculty Reception - be there Wednesday at 5:00 PM!

NEW BUSINESS:

- 1.) Faculty Reception (again!)

Try to get your friends to show up! If you invited a faculty member, PLEASE SHOW UP. Encourage freshman to go. The whole thing will only be an hour and a half, and there will be great food!

- 2.) Piano Drop

We need a LOT of volunteers to help out. On Wednesday, two giant ramp pieces need to be taken to the roof. We still need individuals to help out, so it would be great if you could e-mail your STRONG AND ABLE-BODIED (aka non-Course 6) friends to help out.

We also need a lot of volunteers to stand outside with the piano on Wednesday to help collect donations, promote the piano drop, and to make sure people don't eat the chalk intended for writing stuff on the piano.

On Thursday, we are looking for volunteers to help work the ground around the area of the piano drop. Setting up the fencing around the 2nd piano that will cushion the fall of the 1st piano is not done automatically.

PLEASE HELP OUT!

- 3.) Somebody vandalized the window on the 6th floor Central Lounge on Saturday night. If you INVITE SOMEONE to Baker, they are your responsibility!

APPROPRIATIONS:

- 1.) $559.63 from CPQ BBQ to CPQ BBQ. (Liz / Yonas)
- 2.) $10.00 from Fines and Fees to IM Bowling. (Diana / Riva)
- 3.) $440.00 from TV Room to TV Room. (Nikhil / Yonas)
- 4.) $188.89 from Bricks to Bricks. (Nikhil / Yonas)
- 5.) $3,273.33 from MBPP to MBPP. (Giselle / Christi)
- 6.) $200.01 from Piano Drop to Piano Drop. (Giselle / Christi)
- 7.) $50.00 from Room & Floor Parties to Room & Floor Parties. (Giselle / Christi)
- 8.) $468.74 from TNK to TNK. (Giselle / Christi)

Motion to Adjourn: Yonas and Giselle.

Cheers!

Correction:

In the Baker Minutes for 19 April 2005, there is an error in Announcement #2. The announcement incorrectly states that people living in Rooms X72 - X42 must evacuate. That is, of course, false. There aren't many rooms with those number ranges in Baker.

The corrected Announcement should read:

At 6:00 PM the piano will be dropped. Those of you who live in rooms that lie within X37 - X42 (where X is your floor number) SHOULD LEAVE your rooms during this time AND close the shades. Also, nobody is allowed on the roof during the piano drop.

Please note the revised number range for the rooms that must be evacuated during the Piano drop.

Thanks!

EXECCON MEETING 4/25/05

Motion to Approve last week's minutes by Giselle & Yonas!

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- 1.) Play IM Sports or Diana will spill water on your keyboard and, thus, render your computer/laptop useless for the next 20 minutes.
- 2.) The Spring formal is in 3 days! Get a date, get dressed, or else Riva will personally escort you away.
- 3.) The NEXT and LAST House meeting of this semester will be next Monday. Freshman should attend. It will start at 10PM in Baker Dining, and you may also get a chance to meet your new GRTs. Riva will personally drag you kicking and screaming out of your room if you do not show up.
- 4.) If you have not signed up for Walk for Hunger, you can do so at <http://www.projectbread.org>. Make sure to select Baker House under the team list on the sign-up page.

Also, make sure to walk to Baker Dining at 10 PM next Monday for the House Meeting. Walk to help stop hunger and walk to Baker D to meet new GRTs. Walking rocks!!!

- 5.) If you have talent AND no shame, make sure to come up on stage and put on a show at the Baker Talent Show in about 11 days. Kate, a former freshman, says, "It is so fun!" Take advantage of this opportunity to be complimented for being an uncouth, generally awkward, engineering student.
- 6.) Bravo to the piano drop organizers! A big thanks to all of the strong and able-bodied people who helped carry stuff up to the roof, to those who orchestrated ground control, and to all of those who helped clean up after the piano drop.
- 7.) If you missed the faculty reception this past week, you missed a great opportunity to meet Professors AND eat some GREAT food....in Baker Dining! Don't feel too bad though, for there will be ANOTHER one next year! YAY!!!!
- 8.) Rooming Lottery is coming to a dorm near you...starting Sunday. Look in your mailbox for more information. Priority on the rooming MAY be given to people who show up at the House Meeting and get a GOOD word in with the Rooming Chair, Joe Gionta.

So, make sure to show up at next week's House Meeting or risk being stuck in a quad again!

- 9.) If you have any great ideas for Rush T-Shirts for next year, contact Liz Jordan.

10.) Senior awards will be next Sunday after the ExecCon meeting. If you are a senior, you may get lucky and win an award. If you are not a senior, you will continue to wallow in mediocrity until you become one.

11.) AOTW (Athlete[s] of the Week):

- The piano and the Piano Drop organizers and all the "cooky MIT kids" who were involved.
- Baker Unihoc for rocking for the 2nd week in a row.
- Tom Wilson and MIT Tae Kwon Do for winning their third league championships.

OLD BUSINESS:

- 1.) The person who vandalized one of the 6th floor windows will be paying for the repairs. If you invite guests, remember, they are your responsibility!

NEW BUSINESS:

- 1.) StufFest, an event where we dispose of old belongings for other Bakerites to use, will be taking place towards the end of the semester. Any items that will not be taken by Bakerites will be donated to charity. You all will receive more information on this shortly. Location TBA.
- 2.) If you have any ideas on how to improve Baker, how to get more people to show up at our events, general complaints, etc., feel free to forward your suggestions to baker-execon@mit.edu. If you are a freshman, it is even more important for you to take interest in this.

EXECCON MEETING 5/01/05

Motion to Approve last week's minutes by Yonas!

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- 1.) Play IM Sports or Diana will make you clean up the vomit from the third floor and the elevator areas.
- 2.) Get an act for the Baker Talent Show. Participants are not required to actually exhibit any talent. So, there should be NO excuse for you to not participate.
- 3.) Pay attention to the Rooming Lottery Deadline. Class of 2007 should have their forms submitted by Wednesday, and Class of 2008 should have their forms submitted by Saturday. You do not want to enrage Joe Gionta by being carelessly late.
- 4.) Thanks a lot to the Social Chairs for the great formal! Also, there are no more wine glasses, so STOP asking Giselle for them.
- 5.) A big "YAY!!!!" for Baker's Walk for Hunger Team for walking AND raising around $1300.
- 6.) On the last day of classes, don't be afraid, if around 10PM, Giselle and Kate are chilling outside your door. They are there to offer you refreshments as part of Room Service - a fine Baker tradition. In other words, be sure to be in your room at that time to get some free drinks.
- 7.) If you vomit and deny that you puked because you can't remember puking, you will still be held responsible. Just because you can't remember your actions, that does not mean you are not responsible.

Regarding recent vomiting incidents, we are seeking informants for any information on who or what caused the brilliant display of partially digested food around the 3rd floors and the elevator. We are willing to pay $$$ for any information leading to the confrontation and humiliation of those who make life for other Bakerites more difficult.

- 8.) House meeting will be next Monday (May 9th). Senior Awards will be held at that time, and the Seniors will be giving awards to everyone. We will also be handing out gifts to the GRTs, housemasters, and the house manager. But, wait, there is more! We will also be introducing the new GRTs also. Posters will be placed around Baker to remind you of the event.
- 9.) AOTW (Athlete[s] of the Week):
- The Baker Walk for Hunger Team.

UAOTW (UnAthlete[s] of the Week):

- The individual(s) who decided to vomit all over the lounges and the elevator.

OLD BUSINESS:

- 1.) StuffFest will be May 9th, and it will last for a week. This is a great chance to get rid of old stuff and acquire other people's old stuff. Any leftover items will be donated to charity.
- 2.) If you have any suggestions on how to improve Baker and make it more social, forward your suggestions to baker-execon@mit.edu.

NEW BUSINESS:

- 1.) House meeting next Monday, May 9th. See announcement for further details.
- 2.) Are you interested in having themed parties? If so, contact Giselle and Kate with your suggestions.
- 3.) Do you have any plans or ideas to help improve Baker Rush? Please forward your ideas to Liz Jordan at ljordan@mit.edu. Also, we are looking for talented individuals to design future Baker Rush T-Shirts. If you have any cool designs or plans for the t-shirts, contact Riva Bakal at rbakal@mit.edu.

EXECCON MEETING 5/08/05

Motion to Approve last week's minutes by Yonas!

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- 1.) Play IM Sports or Diana will prevent you from taking your finals.
- 2.) We are planning on having hockey style jerseys next year with your name on the back. You can get them next year, but if you are a graduating Senior, contact Diana Wallin if you are still interested in getting one.
- 3.) House Meeting is tomorrow @ 9PM. Seniors are working hard on awards for Senior Awards Night. Also, get a chance to meet your new GRTs. A special surprise has been planned for everyone. Word on the street is that the surprise is really cool.
- 4.) ROOMING IS OVER. In other words, no whining about rooming. Since nobody was interested in the nice doubles on the 5th floor, freshman next year will be getting them! Those doubles are about three times the size of a coffin in case you were interested in knowing that.
- 5.) There have been no updates on the pulling carts that can be used to move all of your stuff to the Trunkroom. So be prepared to carry all of your stuff by hand. It would be a good idea to keep your Strong and Able-Bodied (aka non-Course 14/15) friends on alert during moving week.
- 6.) Thanks to Social for an excellent "Talent Show." Who would have guessed that people in Baker have talent? Show up to next year's talent show to find out!

If you missed the event this year, the Sex Goddess title goes to Rebecca Sampson, and the Sex God title goes to Manuel Soto.
- 7.) Be in your room Thursday evening for Room Service. Giselle and Kate will drop by your door and offer refreshments.
- 8.) Bricks is out of paper, ink, and love thanks to the people Martijn mentioned in his e-mail sent on 5/8/05 subjected "Brick-diculous"!
- 9.) Trunkroom Update! When we mention the TV ROOM, we are referring to the room near the laundry area. It will be closed for the summer, but that does not mean you all should put your TVs in there. Your TVs would be stashed along with the rest of your stuff during finals week.
- 10.) AOTW (Athlete[s] of the Week):
 - Kate and Giselle
 - Rooming Chairs
 - Riva for almost beating up 5 guys during the Talent Show.
 - Harry Huxford, Brian Malley, and Manuel Soto for being great sports.

OLD BUSINESS:

1.) If you have any ideas for themed parties, send them to Kate and Giselle.
Right now, the themes we have are COLD WAR, ANYTHING BUT CLOTHES, I JUST HAD SEX, and THE GODFATHER.

2.) If you have ideas for Rush t-shirts, send them to Liz Jordan!

- 2.) The GRT awards were really great. The gifts ranged from McDonalds gift certificates for the former Hamburgler - Mike Berg, to darts for Tom, and a karaoke machine for Julius and LaShanda. Awww!
- 3.) Thanks to Will and Myra for their great service as Baker Housemasters for the past 15 years. We will certainly miss you. Check out some great pictures by Diana Wallin from today's meeting here:
<http://web.mit.edu/wallin/Public/Watsons'%20Last%20House%20Meeting/>

4.) Senior Awards night was a blast. If you were not cool enough to receive an award this year, do/say something funny, stupid, or cool around a Senior in order to maybe win an award next year.

- * Screw and Get it Over With
 - Shira Lee and Martijn Stevenson
 - Giselle and Katie
- * Captain Planet
 - Nicki Lehrer
- * Sure that's cigarette smoke?

Cheers!
