

So has everyone recovered from Rush? It seems Baker did pretty good for Rush - Dan was quick to tell me we have almost a 50/50 freshmen 362 Memorial Dr., Cambridge, MA 02139

Baker House

ratio - 37 girls and 40 guys
So now that you're settling into your plush Baker suites you get to read on about what goes on behind the scenes of the Baker House Govt. - it took us a while but we finally got around to having our first meeting. We let the big man in charge, our president Brian, sit at the head of the table. We quickly got down to business and put in our orders with the IHOP waitress - you know how it is - we needed our energy to discuss all the big issues. We were all there except Stevie B, he's in charge of JudCom, the big Baker "police" force. I think Lenny, our smooth-talking representative to the institute, was a bit bummed since we didn't have a young, attractive waitress. Instead this nice old woman took our orders - she even yelled at Bill for only ordering an English muffin. Bill is in charge of all kinds of equipment around Baker. Believe me he can wire up things to do just about anything. Now I must tell you about 2 key people in Baker since they're in charge of parties and they have keys to the liquor closet - these are our social chairmen, Dan & Lowell. And then there's our athletic chairman, Dave, who ordered up the strangest breakfast - chocolate chip pancakes - I don't know who gave him that idea. Now you're probably wondering if there are any females on Execcon to keep these wild guys in line - well don't worry - Janet, our treasurer, is in charge of the Baker $$$ which is tightly locked away in the safe in her room (it still goes - if you can carry it away, it's yours!) and then there's Stephanie who did a great job of running R/O and I'm Maria - I have the great job as Baker House secretary. Well we finally all stuffed our faces and Dan clicked his spoon against his glass to get our meeting going...

Odds & Trends

EXPLOSIVE THRILL

Forget Pac-Man. The latest pastime is more explosive than any video game. For only $10, housewives, accountants or truck drivers at the Bullet Stop in suburban Atlanta rent automatic weapons like UZI submachine guns and blast away with live ammo ($10.75 to $12.75 per box of 50 shells) on twelve carefully supervised shooting lanes. The targets: old bowling pins and combat-training silhouettes. "We get a lot of Rambo types," says Owner Paul LaVista, 38. "But mostly attorneys, airline pilots and doctors. They're big-time spenders." LaVista, who is working on franchising his smashing idea, claims that the diversion becomes almost irresistible. "It's like eating potato chips," he says. "And if you have a date, it's better than oysters."

IT LIVES

As I peered across the horizon, there was a flash of light, followed by an eerie moan. In the distance I could see a figure walking towards me. He seemed familiar, but I couldn't quite place the face. It was a face out of the past. He was tall, with fiery orange hair. There were flies swarming around him. In his hand, a can of Foster's. He had something else in his hand, a little black box. Then it hit me, it was the remote control to a television. "Yo, what's up?", he said in his typical goofy way. Yes, he was back and ready for action, ready for all those new freshmen girls. In his eyes burned a decidedly odd glow.

As he approached, I noted a noise, almost below my threshold of hearing. It reminded me of the sound a servo made when it got dirty. It rose and fell as his knee moved. Suddenly the odor became more noisome (SAT word). I could sense he was getting closer. He seemed to be heading towards second west. Yes, he was approaching 215. I ran after him, hoping to get to a dormline to warn Maria. I was too late, he kicked the door of 215 open and disappeared inside.

Fortunately, Maria was at 6.001. Unfortunately, Janet wasn't. She was seated on the edge of her bed in her robe, drying her hair. He froze for a moment, weighing his options. Suddenly, he smiled. He flashed that dapper smile that was only his and lumbered over to the stereo, slipping his tape of "Cabaret" into the tape player. Suddenly the lights went down and the spotlight that he had stolen bounced off that fiery frizz. As he began to speak, Janet dashed over to the sink and promptly was sick. "Well, Hi. I'm not Oren but I'm here anyway, and I have something for you." Janet drew back in horror as he reached into his pants and slowly withdrew---

FRESHMEN SEE DEAN ABOUT A FROSH PUB ACT !!!!!!!!!

SOMEONE DO A BAKER LETTER!!! (see Brian) and for our entertainment, how 'bout these key quotes for the nightwatchman's log....

there are definitely a few bimbos this year. yeah, and one just wandered in with that "been out all night" look.

while on my round i found kris rothley rm#237 lying face down on the floor.

caught a freshman handling a fire x near rm#546. he ran away when he saw me coming.

the chalkboard in the main lobby was found outside in the middle of the street.

due to mit's 26-25 loss to assumption and a nasty practice due tomorrow, i have decided to turn the reins over halfway through to our late trainee, my protege, tom stewart.

quiet again. am i doing this right?...bismarck msl smells like decaying flesh, none found.

i received a call at the desk from thomas cradick's mother. she was concerned because she has been trying to reach him for the last four days with no success. i told her that i would go up to his room. i then went to his room, knocked on his door, he got up. i told him to call his mummy.

found cheryl tiegs naked in rm 116.

scotti calls physical plant to find me for lockout of 217. they never paged me. scotti finds me himself. cherubino is a bitch.

Hey we're almost done--I mean last night at the Execon Meeting we were talking about the last HOUSE MEETING which is, by the way, on MONDAY, MAY 13th. I hear they give out all kinds of awards--freshmen watch out! So what's up for the summer?--if anyone is going to be in Europe meet up with Oren or maybe Dave J. if he gets there. I just can't wait to go to the beach this summer--until then I'll have to, like Mary says, set my priorities straight and bake out on the moon garden. We'll be evil Lenny and keep you from class. And by the way, Baker women--better watch out--Gerald volunteered himself for the Alpha Phi Slave Auction. What a flamer! (I think I been hangin' around Cherubino too long--picking up all her phrases) So Bill what are you up to rewiring lately? And Steve M. I hear Wheaties and Vodka to well together for Breakfast. Hey I heard rumors that Michael Jackson, Stevie Wonder and Bruce were some of the celebrities around last weekend--for some reason I can hardly remember that I don't think Rodney and a few others can either. Well I guess I should yet you all read on about the wicked exciting Execon Meeting.

P.S. Janet, guess what color I think would go well in our room next year!

Lenny-Thanks to Brian, Alan, AnneF., Farla, Catherine, Hubal and especially Ming for help with the Lenny Tours.

Dan-belated thanks to Tony Curtis for the floor party.

Maria-the softball team beat Framingham State!

Ken-Cabaret tickets are going fast so make sure you get yours.

(1) Motion by Bill-Stephanie to appropriate $100 for fireside chat with Shirley McBay--7-2-0.

Bill-Life is unfair to women.

Meeting Adjourned.

HAPPY BIRTHDAYS this week go to Chris R. in 501, Stan, Marc Light, Terry Olkin, Cathy Sybert, Sue B., and Melih!!! Watch out for the showers!

As a side note, a signed letter would be much more helpful in solving a problem than an anonymous one.

SEXYY?

19. a. 12 b. 8 c. 4 d. 6

20. Give yourself 2 points for each answer checked.

What Your Score Means

175 points or more: It's rare for you to meet a new man and not go to bed with him. Daring, uninhibited, and sexually adventurous, you're the type of girl who has thirty-seven men friends, all of whom are present, past, or future lovers, and about three women friends you don't see very often. You're sexy, yes, but for you, sex is more of an escape and an obsession than a pleasurable, fulfilling activity. Since sex is something you must have, you're not always free to enjoy it, and you often find yourself involved with partners who are inappropriate or unsuitable. Try to be less frantic in your pursuit of sensual pleasure. Spend more time with female friends. Take up a hobby, a cause, or an artistic interest. Put more energy into your career. Become involved with your lover's intellect, feelings, and aspirations rather than just his body. You'll find that when you need it less, sex has more to offer.

120 to 174 points: Sexually open and responsive, you have few hang-ups about men and are able to establish strong, positive love relationships. Yours is a healthy, untrammelled sexuality. You're able to find something attractive in even the homeliest of males and tend to be pleased rather than annoyed when a man shows sexual interest in you.

When a would-be lover is not sufficiently appealing or appropriate, however, you find no difficulty in refusing him, and can do so with such grace that you won't offend him or lose his friendship. Since sex presents few problems to you, you are free to pursue your career and social life without worrying too much about marriage or romance. You know they'll be there when you want them!

70 to 119 points: You tend to be ambivalent in your attitudes toward sex, so much so that you sometimes surprise even yourself. (Your men have become used to surprises.) You're quite arbitrary in your choice of lovers, often in ways you don't understand. With some men, you find it easy to hop into bed at the first opportunity. Others, seemingly as attractive, will have to court you endlessly before attaining their desire. And with still others (often, strangely, the men you most admire and respect), you will make yourself totally inaccessible. Though you may feel strong sexual attraction at times, it is diffused and complicated by an equally strong set of inhibitions, many of which are partly or wholly unconscious. From childhood experience, family admonitions, and the like, you have acquired a set of blueprints, some of them contradictory, that tell you when it is and is not "right" to have sex. Your best lover would be a man who is tolerant of your moods and skillful in helping you overcome inhibition.

Less than 70 points: Your head firmly rules your heart and other organs. Sex should take place, you feel, only when certain conditions are met—in marriage or a long-term relationship, or with exactly the right man. Meanwhile, you succumb only when carried away by a temporary infatuation—or too much champagne. Perhaps because they make you feel strong or superior, you rather enjoy your powers of resistance, which may lead some men to feel you're a bit of a tease. Actually, you're waiting for the perfect man, the lover who will melt all your defenses. Don't be too standoffish, however—one of your suitors might be Mr. Perfection in disguise!

Get Psyched - Only 5 weeks left
'till we're done!

And Happy Birthday to Wendy C., Stephanie B., Sarah K.,
Lori B., Cathy Kim, Marian and the
546 frosh - Perry, Ali, + Robert.

Well right now there's this big space in my head and I can't figure out what to write down. Do you ever have that sensation of being off in space--like far away--and you don't feel like coming back (no, I'm not doing a commercial for Peppermint Patties). Don't mind me--I think Dan put speed in my Tylenol. Either that or I'm flipping out from malnutrition. You see somebody--not to mention any names (Lenny!)--forgot to bring food to the Execcon meeting. You know sometimes when I'm off daydreaming I remember the oddist things we used to do when I was small. I was entertaining Pat and Dan tonight in first East (who is, by the way, missing lounge furniture!!!) with one of my YMCA camp songs which has some pretty catchy lines--great green globes of greasy grimy gopher guts, mutilated monkeys' meat, concentrated birdies' feet, four quart jars of all-purpose porpoise puss and I forgot my spoon . . . but I got my straw. Okay so right now you're all thinking I had a pretty strange childhood but come on--it can't hurt spacing out once in a while.

EXECCON MEETING MINUTES

Thurs., 3/14, 1st east lounge, 9:30pm

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Lenny-Thanks to everyone that helped at the Cocktail Party. Special thanks to Jan and Prof. Sharpless and Cynthia (from BU) (Gimp's sister) and Dano.

Dan&Lowell-Thanks from us too.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY HAPPY HOUR ON FRIDAY

Dave-Sign-up sheets for water polo are on the board.

Steve-Congrats to Dan, Bob, Chris and Alan for JudCom.

Maria-Copy machine should be fixed by Friday--the repairman is supposed to be coming.

Lowell-Keg for BATTLE OF THE BANDS on Sat. night in lobby at 6:30.

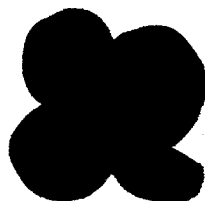

Lenny-NERDS are playing Sat. night-see Felix.

Everybody-HOUSE MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT--9:30 in cafeteria**

- (1) Motion by Lenny-Dan to approve minutes from last time: 9-1-0-1 FET
- (2) Motion by Steve-Janet to approve $66 for photo supplies for house: 8-2-0
- (3) Motion by Brian-Lenny to approve $60 for happy hour: 9-1-0
- (4) Motion by Dan-Steve&Janet to approve $35 to Lenny for next Cocktail Party invitations: 6-2-2
- (5) Motion by Dave that Lenny is a f--king $&@$$ for not bringing food so we should reduce his vote to 1/2. Friendly amendment by Bill--Lenny is a fool : 8-1/2-1
- (6) Motion by Bill-Maria to approve $60 for house meeting: 9 1/2-0-0
- (7) Motion by Steph-Maria to approve $150 for softball bats and $30 for basketballs: 9-1/2-0
- (8) Since no one approached us except Krishna, motion by Brian-Bill to add to agenda that we vote on having Krishna in charge of Client Team.
- (9) Motion by Brian-Steph that Krishna be in charge of Client Team: 9-0-1/2
(see Lenny if interested in ComCom)
- (10) Motion by Steve-Janet to give Lenny full vote: 1/2-9-0

Lenny adjourns meeting.

Also--Thanks to 1st east for use of their lounge!

Well how was everyone's spring break? Well I'll tell you - I can definitely handle 85° weather and palm trees in Florida. Although the softball could have done just a little better, Mary, Cathy & I managed to have fun on the trip. If anyone is into make dance shows, you can always try the Park Avenue club in Orlando although I must warn you - it's pretty tacky! It really makes you wonder when most of the women there are as old as your mother - one of the "fans" was even celebrating her 80th birthday! Needless to say - it was an interesting experience. Our trip to Daytona with Chuck was much better. At the end of the day though it actually got cold and we were stuck to taking outdoor showers in front of a hotel with people cheering us on from their balconies. At the end of the week, we ended up meeting the Bago crew in Disneyworld. By the way - did Bill really rewire the Winnebago? Anyways, I had a flashback to the movie "1984" when we were innocently in our boat (right Anthony!) in the Pirates Cove and a voice rang out: "Sit Down - I can see you" Yes, we managed to hold the ride up while security came to check on us but that wasn't quite as bad as Kenny almost getting kicked out of Disneyworld. Well I'm sure everyone will agree that coming back was tough - Mary, Cathy and I stuck to shorts and shades on the plane trip back. It's hard to tell who got the tannest out of everyone - Penny or Dave Maes. Eugene, Herman and John Gruber look pretty dark too. I don't think anyone will disagree though with who got the worst sunburn - huh Dave?

EXECCON MEETING MINUTES

Tues., 4/2 10:00, Rm. 544

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dave - Anybody who wants to be a paid ump for softball should go to the meeting Thursday night, April 4th, 7:30, Rm 4-370. See me if you have questions.

Dave - The pool table has been fixed, be nice to it.

News Item: Dong Flutie loses 34 yards on one passing attempt. Even when the guy gets sacked, he does it in a big way.

Well I bet today was like one of those ordinary days and you think that tomorrow will probably be the same -- after you finally get up, you make your way down past the Baker desk, that amazing social spot, and maybe, just maybe, you have some "real" mail though interdepartmental mail will even do for those beat 8.02 lectures-boy wouldn't I love to have already taken that class but I guess I can't complain-my TA is pretty cool--me and TJ are really wondering though about what the deal is with those flaming pink pants he wears all the time--must be moonlighting making d's or who knows what else. Anyways, right now you want to head out the door but WAIT! the doors are locked! all you hear are jackhammers and bulldozers; you wonder if you're stuck in Baker for good (what a concept!)--well the scoop is that starting tomorrow, it's construction time once again in Amherst Alley--can you believe it--we're actually going to have to use the MemDrive entrances to Baker which is really bogus. . . WAIT, NEWS FLASH coming in from Stan the Soda Man as he strolls in my room with an announcement you've all been waiting for: "The Baker House Soda Machine is back from the dead. Protected by Patron Saint Ken Corless (lead pipe in hand). Temporarily on the 3rd floor-DON't Beat ON it!" . . . Meanwhile I guess you're all dying right now to read on about the exciting Execcon meeting last night:

THE EXECCON MEETING MINUTES
Tues., 3/5, 10:00 pm, Brian's room

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

LENNY-*COCKTAIL PARTY ON FRIDAY*5-7 pm, invite profs, TAs, friends

I NEED LOTS OF HELP so see me.

DAN-New Year's Party went well. Thanks to SAS, Brian, Carolyn, Steph, Nance, Mike A., Janet, Maria, Steve B. Jim Brandt, Scott L, Dave M., Dave J., Bill, Lenny, Karl T. Tom P., Tracy, Andy W., HeeJung, Eugene, Bob Newmen, Dave S., Napoli, Rodney, Ken, Brad, Ed, Anne G., Mike V., Jay A., Penny, Boris, Dave Simson, TJ, Dano and anyone else we might have forgot.

DAVE-Sign-ups for table tennis, swimming, softball, ultimate frisbee, bowling, and indoor track are up on the board.

STEVE-JudCom butteries are on March 10th and elections are March 12th--see me interested. Also see me about being on Client Team or ComCom.

BRIAN-starting Thursday the Amherst Alley entrance to Baker will be closed from 8am to 4pm every day because they are going to be doing construction (right now they say for 2 months) so we will have to use the MemDrive entrances to Baker. I wrote a letter to the Dean telling him we aren't happy about it --if you have any questions, see me.

NEIL-See me if you have copy machine problems.

- (1) Motion by Brian-Janet to approve Joyce as laundry room manager: passes 10-0-0

What a strange premed!

Dear Ann Landers:

I was amazed by the letter from the girl who cut herself with jagged pieces of glass because she needed to feel pain and watch herself bleed. I thought I was the only one in the world who did that.

It started for me when I was 15. I was having a good time at a beach party when suddenly I wanted to hurt myself and bleed. I went off alone with a can of beer, slashed my wrist with the metal edge and enjoyed the pain and the blood.

When the bleeding got heavy I got scared and asked my friends for help. They thought I had tried to kill myself, but that wasn't true. I was taken to the emergency room of a hospital, had some stitches and didn't try it again for about three months.

The urge hit me again when I was studying for an exam. I couldn't understand an equation and got mad at myself. I took a razor blade and carved some designs on my arm. There was a lot of blood but I put adhesive tape on the wounds and the bleeding stopped.

I want to be a surgeon - sort of combine business with pleasure. Do you think I am crazy? Some of my friends do. Please reply.

- Medford, Ore.

Hey we're almost done--I mean last night at the Execon Meeting we were talking about the last HOUSE MEETING which is, by the way, on MONDAY, MAY 13th. I hear they give out all kinds of awards--freshmen watch out! So what's up for the summer?--if anyone is going to be in Europe meet up with Oren or maybe Dave J. if he gets there. I just can't wait to go to the beach this summer--until then I'll have to, like Mary says, set my priorities straight and bake out on the moon garden. We'll be evil Lenny and keep you from class. And by the way Baker women--better watch out--Gerald volunteered himself for the Alpha Phi Slave Auction. What a flamer! (I think I been hangin' around Cherubino too long--picking up all her phrases) So Bill what are you up to rewiring lately? And Steve M. I hear Wheaties and Vodka to well together for Breakfast. Hey I heard rumors that Michael Jackson, Stevie Wonder and Bruce were some of the celebrities around last weekend--for some reason I can hardly remember that I don't think Rodney and a few others can either. Well I guess I should yet you all read on about the wicked exciting Execon Meeting.

P.S. Janet, guess what color I think would go well in our room next year!

And Happy Birthday to Wendy C., Stephanie B., Sarah K.,
Lori B., Cathy Kim, Marian and the
546 frosh - Perry, Ali, + Robert.

I right now there's this big space in my head and I can't figure out what write down. Do you ever have that sensation of being off in space--like far away--and you don't feel like coming back (no, I'm not doing a commercial for Peppermint Patties). Don't mind me--I think Dan put speed in my Tylenol. Either that or I'm flipping out from malnutrition. You see somebody--not to mention any names (Lenny!)--forgot to bring food to the Execcon meeting. You know sometimes when I'm off daydreaming I remember the oddist things we used to do when I was small. I was entertaining Pat and Dan tonight in first East (who is, by the way, missing lounge furniture!!!) with one of my YMCA camp songs which has some pretty catchy lines--great green globs of greasy grimy gopher guts, mutilated monkeys' meat, concentrated birdies' feet, four quart jars of all-purpose porpoise puss and I forgot my spoon . . . but I got my straw. Okay so right now you're all thinking I had a pretty strange childhood but come on--it can't hurt spacing out once in a while.

EXECCON MEETING MINUTES

Thurs., 3/14, 1st east lounge, 9:30pm

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Lenny--Thanks to everyone that helped at the Cocktail Party. Special thanks to Jan and Prof. Sharpless and Cynthia (from BU) (Gimp's sister) and Dano. Dan&Lowell--Thanks from us too.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY HAPPY HOUR ON FRIDAY

Dave--Sign-up sheets for water polo are on the board.

Steve--Congrats to Dan, Bob, Chris and Alan for JudCom.

Maria--Copy machine should be fixed by Friday--the repairman is supposed to be coming.

Lowell--Keg for BATTLE OF THE BANDS on Sat. night in lobby at 6:30.

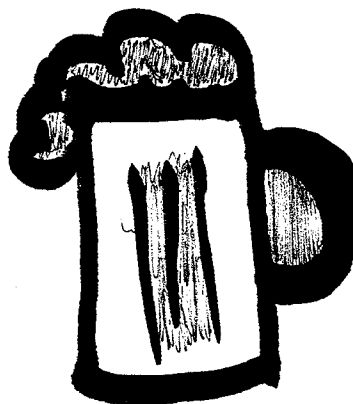

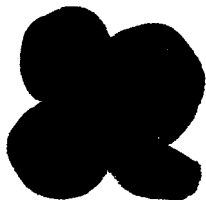

Lenny--NERDS are playing Sat. night--see Felix.

Everybody--HOUSE MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT--9:30 in cafeteria**

- (2) Motion by Steve-Janet to approve $66 for photo supplies for house: 8-2-0
- (3) Motion by Brian-Lenny to approve $60 for happy hour: 9-1-0
- (4) Motion by Dan-Steve&Janet to approve $35 to Lenny for next Cocktail Party invitations: 6-2-2
- (5) Motion by Dave that Lenny is a f--king \$&@\$\$% for not bringing food so we should reduce his vote to 1/2. Friendly amendment by Bill--Lenny is a fool : 8- $\frac{1}{2}$ -1
- (6) Motion by Bill-Maria to approve \$60 for house meeting: 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ -0-0
- (7) Motion by Steph-Maria to approve \$150 for softball bats and \$30 for basketballs: 9- $\frac{1}{2}$ -0
- (8) Since no one approached us except Krishna, motion by Brian-Bill to add to agenda that we vote on having Krishna in charge of Client Team.
- (9) Motion by Brian-Steph that Krishna be in charge of Client Team: 9-0- $\frac{1}{2}$ (see Lenny if interested in ComCom)
- (10) Motion by Steve-Janet to give Lenny full vote: $\frac{1}{2}$ -9-0

Lenny adjourns meeting.

Also--Thanks to 1st east for use of their lounge!

Well I bet today was like one of those ordinary days and you think that tomorrow will probably be the same -- after you finally get up, you make your way down past the Baker desk, that amazing social spot, and maybe, just maybe, you have some "real" mail though interdepartmental mail will even do for those beat 8.02 lectures--boy wouldn't I love to have already taken that class but I guess I can't complain--my TA is pretty cool--me and TJ are really wondering though about what the deal is with those flaming pink pants he wears all the time--must be moonlighting making donuts or who knows what else. Anyways, right now you want to head out the door but WAIT! the doors are locked! all you hear are jackhammers and bulldozers; you wonder if you're stuck in Baker for good (what a concept!)--well the scoop is that starting tomorrow, it's construction time once again in Amherst Alley--can you believe it--we're actually going to have to use the MemDrive entrances to Baker which is really bogus. . . WAIT, NEWS FLASH coming in from Stan the Soda Man as he strolls in my room with an announcement you've all been waiting for: "The Baker House Soda Machine is back from the dead. Protected by Patron Saint Ken Corless (lead pipe in hand). Temporarily on the 3rd floor--DON't Beat ON it!" . . . Meanwhile I guess you're all dying right now to read on about the exciting Execcon meeting last night:

THE EXECCON MEETING MINUTES

I want to be a surgeon - sort of combine business with pleasure. Do you think I am crazy? Some of my friends do. Please reply.

- Medford, Ore.

Your compulsion to punish yourself physically and the pleasure you receive from seeing blood indicates an urgent need for psychiatric help. Tell the school counselor, your parents or the family doctor at once. You are in a bad way, dear.

Boris-I would like to know if anyone has a clue to where the slide projector is. Let me know if you do. Also there is a "CAPTION THE PICTURE" contest--see the glass case.

Lenny-Next Wednesday, April 17th, Shirley McBay will be here at 6pm for dinner and 7:30 for a fireside chat.

Dave-IM Cycling on Sunday, April 28th and IM Wrestling on Saturday, April 20th. Sign up for both on athletic board.

Dan-*CASINO PARTY TONIGHT*WIN TRIP TO ATLANTIC CITY

Come help set up as soon as the dining hall closes and stick around after to help clean up.

Steph-All the Prefrosh thought Baker was AAAWESOME!!!

Lenny-Thanks to Brian, Alan, AnneF., Farla, Catherine, Hubal and especially Ming for help with the Lenny Tours.

Dan-belated thanks to Tony Curtis for the floor party.

Maria-the softball team beat Framingham State!

Ken-Cabaret tickets are going fast so make sure you get yours.

(1) Motion by Bill-Stephanie to appropriate $100 for fireside chat with Shirley McBay--7-2-0.

Bill-Life is unfair to women.

Meeting Adjourned.

HAPPY BIRTHDAYS this week go to Chris R. in 501, Stan, Marc Light, Terry Olkin, Cathy Sybert, Sue B., and Melih!!! Watch out for the showers!

As a side note, a signed letter would be much more helpful in solving a problem than an anonymous one.

SEXYY?

1. Of the following sensual experiences, your favorite would be:

- Swimming naked by moonlight.
- Wearing a glamorous mink with nothing underneath.
- Sliding nude into cool satin sheets.
- Taking a soothing, sensuous bath at day's end.

2. When gloriously hungry, you'd most adore consuming:

- Caviar, sparkling champagne, and deviled crayfish.
- A perfectly broiled steak with all the trimmings.
- Shark's fin soup and Peking duck.
- Osso buco with homemade fettuccine Alfredo.
- All of the above.

3. Of the following scents, the one you most prefer is:

What Your Score Means

175 points or more: It's rare for you to meet a new man and not go to bed with him. Daring, uninhibited, and sexually adventurous, you're the type of girl who has thirty-seven men friends, all of whom are present, past, or future lovers, and about three women friends you don't see very often. You're sexy, yes, but for you, sex is more of an escape and an obsession than a pleasurable, fulfilling activity. Since sex is something you must have, you're not always free to enjoy it, and you often find yourself involved with partners who are inappropriate or unsuitable. Try to be less frantic in your pursuit of sensual pleasure. Spend more time with female friends. Take up a hobby, a cause, or an artistic interest. Put more energy into your career. Become involved with your lover's intellect, feelings, and aspirations rather than just his body. You'll find that when you need it less, sex has more to offer.

120 to 174 points: Sexually open and responsive, you have few hang-ups about men and are able to establish strong, positive love relationships. Yours is a healthy, untrammelled sexuality. You're able to find something attractive in even the homeliest of males and tend to be pleased rather than annoyed when a man shows sexual interest in you.

When a would-be lover is not sufficiently appealing or appropriate, however, you find no difficulty in refusing him, and can do so with such grace that you won't offend him or lose his friendship. Since sex presents few problems to you, you are free to pursue your career and social life without worrying too much about marriage or romance. You know they'll be there when you want them!

70 to 119 points: You tend to be ambivalent in your attitudes toward sex, so much so that you sometimes surprise even yourself. (Your men have become used to surprises.) You're quite arbitrary in your choice of lovers, often in ways you don't understand. With some men, you find it easy to hop into bed at the first opportunity. Others, seemingly as attractive, will have to court you endlessly before attaining their desire. And with still others (often, strangely, the men you most admire and respect), you will make yourself totally inaccessible. Though you may feel strong sexual attraction at times, it is diffused and complicated by an equally strong set of inhibitions, many of which are partly or wholly unconscious. From childhood experience, family admonitions, and the like, you have acquired a set of blueprints, some of them contradictory, that tell you when it is and is not "right" to have sex. Your best lover would be a man who is tolerant of your moods and skillful in helping you overcome inhibition.

Less than 70 points: Your head firmly rules your heart and other organs. Sex should take place, you feel, only when certain conditions are met—in marriage or a long-term relationship, or with exactly the right man. Meanwhile, you succumb only when carried away by a temporary infatuation—or too much champagne. Perhaps because they make you feel strong or superior, you rather enjoy your powers of resistance, which may lead some men to feel you're a bit of a tease. Actually, you're waiting for the perfect man, the lover who will melt all your defenses. Don't be too standoffish, however—one of your suitors might be Mr. Perfection in disguise!

And everyone I missed last week too!!

HAVE AN AWESOME SUMMER!!!!!!!!!!

Shape
Up

Hey is this you Dave Maes!

FOR BETTER OR WORSE

Well how was everyone's spring break? Well I'll tell you - I can definitely handle 85° weather and palm trees in Florida. Although the softball could have done just a little better, Mary, Cathy & I managed to have fun on the trip. If anyone is into male dance shows, you can always try the Park Avenue club in Orlando although I must warn you - it's pretty tacky! It really makes you wonder when most of the women there are as old as your mother - one of the "fans" was even celebrating her 80th birthday! Needless to say - it was an interesting experience. Our trip to Daytona with Chuck was much better. At the end of the day though it actually got cold and we were stuck taking outdoor showers in front of a hotel with people cheering us on from their balconies. At the end of the week, we ended up meeting the Bago crew in Disneyworld. By the way - did Bill really rewire the Winnebago? Anyways, I had a flashback to the movie "1984" when we were innocently in our boat (right Anthony!) in the Pirates' Cove and a voice rang out: "Sit Down - I can see you" Yes, we managed to hold the ride up while security came to check on us but that wasn't quite as bad as Kenny almost getting kicked out of Disneyworld. Well I'm sure everyone will agree that coming back was tough - Mary, Cathy and I stuck to shorts and shades on the plane trip back. It's hard to tell who got the tannest out of everyone - Penny or Dave Maes. Eugene, Herman and John Gruber look pretty dark too. I don't think anyone will disagree though with who got the worst sunburn - huh Dave?

IT LIVES

As I peered across the horizon, there was a flash of light, followed by an eerie moan. In the distance I could see a figure walking towards me. He seemed familiar, but I couldn't quite place the face. It was a face out of the past. He was tall, with fiery orange hair. There were flies swarming around him. In his hand, a can of Foster's. He had something else in his hand, a little black box. Then it hit me, it was the remote control to a television. "Yo, what's up?", he said in his typical goofy way. Yes, he was back and ready for action, ready for all those new freshmen girls. In his eyes burned a decidedly odd glow.

As he approached, I noted a noise, almost below my threshold of hearing. It reminded me of the sound a servo made when it got dirty. It rose and fell as his knee moved. Suddenly the odor became more noisome (SAT word). I could sense he was getting closer. He seemed to be heading towards second west. Yes, he was approaching 215. I ran after him, hoping to get to a dormline to warn Maria. I was too late, he kicked the door of 215 open and disappeared inside.

Fortunately, Maria was at 6.001. Unfortunately, Janet wasn't. She was seated on the edge of her bed in her robe, drying her hair. He froze for a moment, weighing his options. Suddenly, he smiled. He flashed that dapper smile that was only his and lumbered over to the stereo, slipping his tape of "Cabaret" into the tape player. Suddenly the lights went down and the spotlight that he had stolen bounced off that fiery frizz. As he began to speak, Janet dashed over to the sink and promptly was sick. "Well, Hi. I'm not Oren but I'm here anyway, and I have something for you." Janet drew back in horror as he reached into his pants and slowly withdrew--- premed!

Dear Ann Landers:

I was amazed by the letter from the girl who cut herself with jagged pieces of glass because she needed to feel pain and watch herself bleed. I thought I was the only one in the world who did that.

It started for me when I was 15. I was having a good time at a beach party when suddenly I wanted to hurt myself and bleed. I went off alone with a can of beer, slashed my wrist with the metal edge and enjoyed the pain and the blood.

When the bleeding got heavy I got scared and asked my friends for help. They thought I had tried to kill myself, but that wasn't true. I was taken to the emergency room of a hospital, had some stitches and didn't try it again for about three months.

The urge hit me again when I was studying for an exam. I couldn't understand an equation and got mad at myself. I took a razor blade and carved some designs on my arm. There was a lot of blood but I put adhesive tape on the wounds and the bleeding stopped.

I want to be a surgeon - sort of combine business with pleasure. Do you think I am crazy? Some of my friends do. Please reply.

- Medford, Ore.

Your compulsion to punish yourself physically and the pleasure you receive from seeing blood indicates an urgent need for psychiatric help. Tell the school counselor, your parents or the family doctor at once. You are in a bad way, dear.
