

Baker House

362 Memorial Drive, Cambridge

"It's a warped red-brick building."

"Baker is a piano half-imbedded in the road."

"Being out on the basketball court and knowing the whole house supports you — that's Baker."

"A lot of friendly people, a lot of open doors."

Baker means people first and foremost. People give it its atmosphere of friendliness. It's great to be able to walk down a hall and see lots of doors open, lots of people in the lounges. It's great to find people always there — whether you want them to go out for pizza or for help on a problem set.

People give Baker its spirit — its ready-to-try-anything, proud-to-live-here spirit. It's this spirit that makes intramural sports so big here. Whether you want to play seriously, or just try something you've never tried before, Baker has a team on your level.

People also are responsible for Baker's unity. Living together, doing things together, having fun together makes people unified. And there are lots of chances for having fun together. Whether you like parties, outings, activities or jokes, things planned or spontaneous, there are things for you to do.

And there are facilities for you to use — a music room, dark room, electronics lab, TV sets, ping pong and pool tables, sewing and washing machines, and more.

All together, Baker is a place for people — and of people. Please stop by and visit. We'd love to see you.

"It's people — great people!"

"It's my kind of place — crazy."

"Bricks." "Nuts!" "Beer." "Home."

"Really it's whatever you want it to be."
