#3. motion to app. $300 for March 11 party Line item-passes 6-0-3

#4. motion to app. $30 from Cocktail budget for happy hour 7-1-1 we'll have a new flavor to these this term: album of the week, new and better beers and wines. Idea; charge more for the more expensive stuff to keep subsidies down.

#5. motion to app. $25 for Baker Letter Line item. 8-0-1

#6. Discussion of By Law changes; There seemed to be a prevailing thought that this should be brought up to the house but we decided to consider them ourselves as they were a part of Excon's By-laws. motion to accept 4a (making chairpeople able to run for Excon offices) and reject all others was withdrawn after an unfriendly amendment passed (5-3-1) that would strike the last phrase (rejection). Another motion to accept 4a (same thing) passes by roll call vote:

Frosh:	YES	AthC.	Yes	VPIR	YES	passes
Sec:	YES	Soc C	YES	VPRO	YES	8-0-1
Treas.	YES	Jud	YES	PREZ	ABSTAINED

Motion to approve commons committee to standing committee list was withdrawn when consensus was to have it reworded.

Motion to approve washcomm was also withdrawn.

Next meeting FRIDAY 7:30 pm.
Switching of power meeting.

Nice knowing y'all!

party and about ¹⁵⁰ ~~100~~ freshmen showed up
We ran out of ice cream, but we still had plenty of that all time favorite MacLund's Orange Dunk.

~~ERT~~
On Fri, ^{secret} ~~surprise~~ advertisements for our party + gave out instructions to give them out right before the end of the picnic. Well, someone goofed, took place and ~~is~~ by 5:15 Ken Browning + Carola were munching on ~~fortune cookies~~ reading "Great Fortune Awaits You at Baker Sat night, or
Be a Cookie and Come to Baker Party Sat night. reading [(By the way advertising before 6:00 on Fri is "Good E" ^{an} agreement made by frats + dorms) except most told the dorms. Of course we didn't tell them that we already knew, we pleaded innocent
By them I mean the frats, by this time the very angry frats (Carola thought they were cute, but the frats didn't think so.)
We had a coffeehouse, party, pub, women's lunch
+ finally used up $30 worth of M.O.D. Was that stuffy really that bad well $300 - $30

Finally the rush was over.

(21 women applied first choice 24 assigned
121 men " " 82 " "

Blue hills was the next week and was canceled from Sat to Sunday. Don't ever believe the weathermen. One more important event, thanks to Steve + Linda, the confid. guide came out.

Well that's basically it. I had a fun year.
I'd like to wish next years R.C. chairman lots of luck. She'll need it.

The first thing I have to say is that I think we got a great bunch of freshmen.

Although it would be nice to spend no money and do no extra work, and just hope that freshmen would realize what a great place Baker is, it just doesn't work that way. Burton bad-mouthed us, spots bad mouthed us, so not only did we have to create a good image of Baker, but we had to disprove all the ~~so~~ unfair comments that were made about us. That's what we did this year + I hope next year's R.O week is even better.

For those who weren't involved in R.O week ^{planning} especially freshmen I'll give a summary of what happened.

Letters went out over the summer to R.O workers + then freshmen. Also Bakerites were asked to contact freshmen in the area.

~~With the sun the summer passed quickly~~ + on Aug 30 people started arriving. We started with a meeting Wed. night. Now, I'm used ^{to} house meetings where people never shut up. At that R.O meeting, no one said a word, (except me), no one volunteered, no one made suggestions. Well unfortunately I got a little bit angry, but 2 pitchers of beer at ^{Gather's} Churney's took care of that.

Thursday morning breakfast was served, as it would be ~~until~~ ^{thru} Mon. morning. Tours also started.

Thursday night we had an ice cream
